Additional charges

Additional charges may be applied when the relevant building work, or part thereof, has not been carried out by a person referred to in regulation 7(5) (g) or (h) of the Building (Local Authority Charges) Regulations 2010 (self-certification schemes). It is additional to the inspection charge, building notice charge or regularisation charge.

Such works include where work in connection with a controlled electrical installation, gas installation, solid fuel burning appliance or oil-fired installation, is not carried out by a person registered under a competent persons scheme or is unable to demonstrate competence to carry out the relevant work through submission of appropriate qualifications and certification.

Additional charges may also be levied where additional inspections are required outside of the scope of the council's inspection service plan for any particular project, including where inspections are requested but are abortive due to work not being ready to inspect or access not being made available.

All prices are based on projects taking no longer than 2 years to complete. Where the council are not notified of inspection within 2 years a further charge will be levied unless the project commenced before 2010. This is to cover the cost of additional work the council has to do.
